No. 55, Vol. 3.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, AUGUST 22, 1863.

Price 6d. or 12 cts.

THIS JOURNAL is published every Wednesday and Saturday morning, and despatched by Mail and Express to all parts of these Colonies, Washington Territory, Oregon, California, the Eastern Provinces and Great Britain.

The utmost care is taken to procure authentic information from all the leading districts of British Columbia, and every exertion made to obtain reliable statistics respecting the country generally.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1863.

Sketch of Henry VIII.

At his accession to the Crown, Henry was in the prime of youth and manly beauty. Had he lived in a more poetic age and died before his divorce, he might, without any great effort of imagination, have stood for the hero of an epic poem. He possessed just those qualities which Englishmen admire in their rulers at all times—a fund of good temper, occasionally broken by sudden bursts of anger, vast muscular strength and unflinching courage. In stature he towered above all his contemporaries. From the brilliant crowd that surrounded him he could be distinguished by his commanding figure and the superior graces of his person. In an age remarkable for great feats of strength, and when bodily skill was held in the highest estimation, no one outdid him in the tournament. Man and horse fell before him, and lance after lance, at the jousts held in Tourney in honor of the Lady Margaret and the Emperor Maximilian. He drew the best bow of the age, and in the mastery of it was a match for the tallest archers of his own guard.

He spoke French, Italian and Spanish. Of his proficiency in Latin, a specimen has been preserved among the letters of Erasmus. All suspicion of its genuineness is removed by the positive assertion of Erasmus that he had seen the original and corrected in the Prince's own hand. In the business of the State he was, with the exception of Wolsey, the most assiduous man in his dominions. He read and noted the despatches of his ministers and ambassadors without the aid of secretary or interpreter.

Among his lighter accomplishments, still more rare among the sovereigns and nobility of that age, was his skill in the practice and theory of music. We learn from Sagudino, secretary to Gistinnian, who visited England in 1515, that the King practised the lute, organ and harpsicord "day and night," and was passionately fond of music. "He was extremely skilled in music," is the remark of Gistinnian, an Italian, accustomed to hear the best composers of his country, when the musicians of Italy were scarcely less eminent than its painters. Nicolo Sagudino writes, in 1517, that "he remained ten days at Richmond with the ambassador, and in the evening they enjoyed hearing the King play and sing, and seeing him dance and run at the ring by day; in all which exercises he acquitted himself divinely."

The vast number of warrants, letters and despatches which every day demanded his attention and required his signature—and such a signature was not struck off in a hurry—is entirely at variance with the popular notion that he gave himself up wholly to amusement and was indifferent to more serious occupations. Had such been the case, the business of the nation must have fallen into confusion or come to a stand; and we should have seen some traces of it in the correspondence of the time. On the contrary nothing could exceed the regularity and despatch in every department of State, as shown by the documents now preserved in the Record Office.

His delight in gorgeous pageantry and splendid ceremonial, if without any studied design, was not without advantage. Cloth of gold and tissue, new year's gifts, Christmas masquerades and May-day mummeries, full with heavy expense on the nobility, but afforded a cheap and gratuitous amusement to the people. The roughness of the populace were not excluded from their share in the enjoyment. Sometimes, in a boisterous fit of delight, he would allow and even invite the lookers on to scramble for the rich ornaments of his own dress and that of his courtiers. Unlike his father, he showed himself everywhere. He entered with ease into the sports of others, and also allowed them with equal ease to share in his. To this hearty compliance with the national humor, which no subsequent acts, however arbitrary or cruel, could altogether obliterate—to the impression produced by his frankness and good humor—to his unquestionable courage and ability to hold his own against all comers, without the adventitious aid of his exalted position—Henry VIII. owed much of that popularity which seems unintelligible to modern notions.

Englishmen had found at last a living counterpart of that ideal royalty which they had often longed for and seldom been able to realize. That ideal is not ours; it falls far short of our conceptions; still it must be judged by the times. And no attentive reader of the papers or chronicles of this reign will be at a loss to find a counterpart to those passionate expressions of loyalty which Shakespeare has put into the mouth of Wolsey.—Letters and Papers of the Reign of Henry VIII. Arranged by J. J. Brewer, A. M.

The project of holding a public meeting at Liverpool, with the purpose of expressing regret at the death of General Sydenham Jackson, has been abandoned, and a subscription towards the erection of a monument at Richmond has been opened instead.

A Bill has passed the Canadian Legislature to prevent the execution of the death penalty in public by a vote of 61 to 51.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1863.
THE NEW DISPENSATION.

Not less real and important will be the change to us than was that experienced two years ago by thirty million Russian serfs. Although ostensibly free we have been practically every whit as helpless as they. Nay, in some respects we have been even worse; for we were ruled by the absolute will of one man, whose interests were, unfortunately, directly adverse to our own. Now that we are really delivered from the un-British and illiberal one-man power which has ground us down for five years, it is our desire to take a final leave of Mr. Douglas without harboring feelings of malice or resentment. During that period we have, in the heat of indignant resentment of what we conceived to be foul wrong, written many pretty severe things. And no wonder; for we were frequently driven to desperation. But now that all is over and he is deprived of the power to harm this Colony, it is our desire to bury the hatchet and entertain only those feelings which are due from one gentleman to another, hoping, as we sincerely do, that in his retirement he will enjoy that universal respect and esteem which as a Governor he failed to command. Before taking final leave of Mr. Douglas, however, we would desire to give him a word of caution. He will, of course, hold the seals of office until the arrival of his successor; and during that interim we would warn him against taking advantage of his position to do any act, either for the benefit of placemen or the gratification of his own wounded feelings, by which the spirit or workings of the new system would in any way be marred. For although not by any means as liberal as we had a right to expect, the people will rally round and maintain inviolate our new, and let us hope merely temporary, constitution. It will take some time to realize the full import of the political changes now taking place in respect to this Colony. Dwarfed, enfeebled, and unaccustomed to act for ourselves in political matters, it will take a while to awake to a true realization of the important responsibility now devolving upon every man, and to feel that we are indeed to share, though for the present in a very limited degree, in the responsibility of the administration of the Government of the Colony. But we must learn to value to its full extent the importance of our franchise; and let it be the anxious aim of every colonist to make the highest and best use of the privilege he enjoys. This will be the surest way to derive the greatest possible present benefit and secure an early extension of our political privileges.

The character of our new form of Government is not the most liberal and satisfactory. It is true, especially to those who have resided in older Colonies and tasted the sweets of responsible government. We did expect that two-thirds of the Council would have been elective, the other third being composed, as now, of the heads of Departments. It appears, however, that the impression made upon the mind of the Duke respecting the character of our population was such as to lead him to the conclusion that it would not be safe to give the people more than one-third of the power—the Government retaining two-thirds. One reason assigned for this is a rather novel one, viz, the excess of Indian population. We fail to see the force of this argument unless it is intended that the aborigines shall be enfranchised, a step which we presume can hardly be seriously contemplated.

One part of the arrangement, the quota of Magistrates—as we said before, we do not understand. The Magistrates of this Colony are regularly salaried government officials placed at their various stations throughout the Colony, and we believe, generally having plenty to occupy their time. These men cannot be brought from their post to attend the sittings of Council without the most serious injury to the public service; indeed, they cannot be spared at all. How, then, is the plan to work? If local Magistrates be appointed specially for this Council it would not be fair to the Colony, as a whole, that they should belong to New Westminster; and it can hardly be expected that if appointed in the various districts in the interior they would act without receiving a fitting remuneration. It appears to us that there will be some difficulty in working out this part of the scheme. The old Duke, in conceiving such an idea, must have been in ignorance of the real state of the case, and fancied he was dealing with a country like England, from the various counties of which Magistrates—who are independent gentlemen—might be called in without the slightest difficulty. With that portion of the Council composed of the heads of departments we have no fault to find. Fortunately for us they are all gentlemen who are truly British Columbian in their feelings—if we except our absentee Secretary, of whom there is reason to hope we will get rid—who, we believe, have the best interests of the Colony at heart, and who possess very fair qualifications for the discharge of the duties which will devolve upon them as members of the Legislative Council.

Of the popular portion of the House we have only to express an anxious hope that the people will carefully select and return men who will adopt a dignified, mild and enlightened policy, men who will so demean themselves as to prove to the Imperial Government that we do possess the material for full representative institutions, and so lead to our obtaining these institutions at an early period—men who will not raise local issues or party squabbles about trifling details, but give the Government a general support upon all important measures having for their object the general good of the Colony. And let us hope there will be no party lines drawn, no opposition for the first year or so; but that it may be a House united in promoting the prosperity and developing the resources of the country.

For our own part we are prepared, no matter who the head of the Government may be, to give that Government a strong and general support. We shall doubtless have occasion to find fault with some of their acts; for it is not to be expected that any government will succeed in pleasing all, or even a majority, in everything. But while we may feel it to be our duty to take exception to some of their acts it will be our desire and aim to afford them a general and hearty support if, in the main, they show that they have the welfare of the Colony at heart. They will find us neither factious nor unreasonable, but prepared to sink minor points in order that we may have a strong Government to carry out the various important colonial and intercolonial measures which await their action.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad
Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance when ever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferer themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the printed instructions. It should be well rubbed upon the neighboring parts, when all obnoxious matter will be removed. A poultice of bread and water may sometimes be applied at bed time with advantage; and most scrupulous cleanliness must be observed. If those who read this paragraph will bring it under the notice of such of their acquaintances whom it may concern, they will render a service that will never be forgotten, as a cure is certain.

Rheumatism, Gout & Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subduing pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravities from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be effected, even under the worst circumstances, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm &
other Skin Diseases.

After fomentation with warm water, utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, by the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that nearly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach, consequently, in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Pills. The general health will be readily improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should not be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps & all other Derangements
of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat; this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more suitable than any other remedy for all complaints of a scrofulous nature. As the blood is impure the liver, stomach and bowels, being much deranged, require purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Stiff Joints.	Sore Throats.
Bunions.	Elephantiasis.	Skin Diseases.
Bite of Mosquitoes.	Fistulas.	Scurvy.
and Sand-Flies.	Gout.	Sore-heads.
Coccy-bay.	Glansular Swelling.	Tumors.
Chiepo-foot.	Hugs.	Ulcers.
Corns (soft).	Lumbago.	Wounds.
Cancers.	Piles.	Yaws.
Chilblains.	Rheumatism.

Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London; and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilised world, at the following prices:—1s. 12d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each Pot.

* There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

"SONGS OF SCOTLAND PRIOR TO BURNS."—A new work bearing this title, by Robert Chalmers, gives, amongst others, the following:

TIBBIE FOWLER.

Tibbie Fowler o' the Glen,
There's ower many wooin' at her;
Tibbie Fowler o' the Glen,
There's ower many wooin' at her.
Wooin' at her, pu' in' at her,
Courtin' her, and canna get her;
Filly elf, it's for her peff
That a' the lads are wooin' at her.
Ten cam' east, and ten cam' west;
Ten cam' rowin' ower the water;
Twa cam' down the lang dyke-side;
There's twa-and-thirty wooin' at her.
There's seven but, and seven hen,
Seven in the pantry wi' her;
Twenty head about the door—
There's aye-and-forty wooin' at her!

She's got pendles in her lugs,
Cockle shells wad set her better;
High-heel'd shoes, and siller tags,
And a' the lads are wooin' at her.

Be a lassie e'er sae black,
Gin she has the name o' siller,
Set her up on Tibstock tap,
The wind will blaw a man till her.

Be a Jassie e'er sae fair,
And she want the penny siller,
A fie may tell her in the air
Before a man be even'd till her.

The following lines will illustrate the native loyalty
of the Scottish character:—

I swear by moon and stars sae bright,
And the sun that glances early,
If I had twenty thousand lives,
I'd risk them a' for Charlie!

I once had sons, I now hae none,
I bred them, toiling saurly;
And I wad bear them a' again,
And lose them a' for Charlie!

A KIND ACT AND ITS REWARD.—The "Cleveland Plainsdealer" sketches an incident that lately occurred on one of the railroads running through Ohio. The sketch is interesting, though it is impersonal:—

The train is running over the road at a rapid rate. The car is full of well-dressed aristocratic passengers. The conductor enters and proceeds to collect the accustomed fare. Presently he comes to a woman dressed in deep mourning, travelling with three children, and calls for her ticket. The lady quickly puts her hand into her pocket for the same, but it was gone, with the wallet containing all her money, within which the ticket had been placed for safe keeping.
The lady is an exceedingly modest, retiring disposition, and in an agitated manner explains why she cannot pay the fare. The conductor is one of your hard-hearted kind—one of those men without a particle of gentle feeling—and without taking into consideration any of the pallating circumstances in the case, rang the bell, stopped the train, and the young woman and her little ones were ordered from the car. The engineer had not been an uninteresting spectator of the scene. He had left the engine the advanced to where the lady was standing, looking so distressed and friendless. The engineer had a big warm heart. Putting his hand in his pocket he produced a fifty dollar gold piece, and,
handing it to the lady, remarked,

"Here, madam, take this and get into the car.
It is shameful that you should be thus treated."

The lady hesitated about receiving it, but was in a desperate strait; and after showering numberless thanks upon the noble engineer, insisted on receiving his name and address; she then returned to her seat in the cars and went on her way.

About a month from this time the engineer received a note requesting him to call at the express office and take from thence a package addressed to him. He did so. Upon opening the package he found that it contained fifty dollars and an elegant gold watch, seals and chain.
Upon the inside of the case was inscribed the Golden Rule, the substance of which is, "To do to others as you would wish others to do to you."

PLAN TO RAISE A REVENUE.—The Boston Evening Gazette hopes Congress will put a tax of one dollar upon every man under sixty who carries a cane; a tax of two dollars upon ladies owning poodles; a tax of one dollar upon all the gentlemen under thirty who wear eye glasses; a tax of nine shillings upon ladies who wear three or more flounces; a tax of five dollars upon all pretty women who wear veils, and ten dollars upon all ugly women who don't; a tax of two dollars and a half upon people who go wandering round to different churches and don't pay any pew tax; a tax of twenty-five cents upon every person who reads a newspaper he don't subscribe to or purchase; a tax of one hundred dollars upon any person, male or female, who gets into an omnibus or car when it is already full, and a tax of two cents upon every person in Boston who pulls his watch out when the alarm is striking twelve. This would give us a big income.

The France states that "the soul of the defence of Puebla" is an Englishman of good family, and formerly a cavalry officer, compelled "to leave England in consequence of his debts." The France states that for the last fifteen years he has served in the army of Juarez.

THE SUFFERER'S BEST FRIEND.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most simple and certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many maladies resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. In all diseases it is of primary importance to set the stomach right. These Pills are purifiers, alternatives, and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances. Though powerfully tonic, and satisfactorily aperient, they are mild in their operation, and beneficial to the whole system.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesale effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm
in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness.
Their general aperient qualities well fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons, while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

To Regain Health, Strength and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," and there are so many causes
at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known, should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids
and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Old Coughs, Colds and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted in their action by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectually twice a day upon the throat and chest, and keeping those parts covered with the preparation, will be found the most effectual remedy for asthma, coughs, colds, bronchitis, and influenza.
These remedies tranquilize the hurried breathing,
soothe the irritated air-tubes, and assist in dislodging the phlegm which stops up the passages. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficient in not only curing old settled colds, but asthma of many years standing, and even when patients who were in so bad a state as not able to lie down on their beds lest they be choked with phlegm.

Derangement and Distention of the Bowels, Flatulency, Diarrhoea
and Dysentery.

Any symptoms of the above complaints should be immediately met by appropriate doses of these Pills, according to the printed directions: delay may be followed by disastrous consequences. These Pills are a certain remedy for all the ailments of the alimentary canal, they secure the thorough digestion of the food, and act most kindly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. As a household medicine they are unrivalled, and should always be at hand.

Very Important, of Costiveness Beware.

Rarely but little notice is taken of costiveness, yet,
at certain periods, it is a sure sign that danger is near.
All who are seized with apoplexy and paralysis, have previously suffered from costiveness. In the former case the blood flies to the head, a small vein is ruptured on the brain, and we know the result. Let wives cover their husbands, and husbands their wives, never to go to bed a second night, if the bowels have not been properly moved during the day, particularly if they feel heavy and drowsy. A few gentle doses of these fine Pills will regulate the circulation of the blood, and all dangerous symptoms.

*Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world
for the following diseases:—*

Ague	Female Irre-	Retention of Urine
Asthma	gularities	Scrofula, or King's

CARIBOO

EVERY PERSON SHOULD KNOW

THAT THE

Shortest, Best and Cheapest

ROUTE

CARIBOO MINES

IS VIA THE

YALE AND LYTTON

WAGON ROAD.

The chained distances on the Yale and Lytton Road are as follows:

From Yale to Boston Bar,	25 Miles
" Boston Bar to Lytton,	32 "
" Lytton to McLean's,	47 "
" McLean's to Junction of Wagon Road, ..	19 "

Distance from Yale to Junction, 124 "

COMPARE THE ABOVE

with the following distances set down by Lillooet
Shippers:

From Douglas to Lillooet,	110 Miles
" Lillooet to Junction,	47 "

Dist. from Douglas to Junction, 157 "

THE JUNCTION

is the point at which the Wagon Roads intersect each other, and where the Cariboo-bound traveller by the Yale-Lytton and Douglas-Lillooet routes MUST meet.
It will, therefore, be seen by the above figures that the traveller by YALE and LYTTON has

THIRTY-THREE MILES LESS TRAVEL

than if he went by the Douglas-Lillooet route.

Remember that on this Route there are NO PORTAGES where Goods or Animals may be detained.

Messrs. DUBIG, LANE, BLACK, and other Carriers of Merchandise, advertise to Carry Freight from Yale to Lytton

$20 per Ton Less than is or will be charged on the Douglas-Lillooet route.

greatly reduced rates.

desirous of getting Freight through to Cariboo this season are advised to Shun the Douglas-Lillooet Route!

and are referred to the testimony adduced in the CRANFORD CASE, wherein witnesses have stated upon oath that 15, 20, or even 30 days is a REASON-ABLE TIME to convey Freight from Douglas to Lillooet.

Five Days Only are required to Carry Goods from Yale to Lytton,

and

SHIPPERS ARE ASSURED

that if Freight is carried from Douglas to Lillooet at Two Cents per lb.,

Carriers are prepared to Carry

FREIGHT FROM YALE TO LYTTON

WITH SAFETY AND DESPATCH, FOR

One Cent Per Pound!!!

All those who allow themselves to be crammed by Douglasites this year need expect no sympathy from the public if they get broke trying to get goods through that route.

Remember the Cranford affair; and steer clear of extortion and delays.

Travel the Yale and Lytton Wagon Road to the Cariboo Mines.

New and Commodious Hotels have been erected at convenient distances along the entire length of the route, where FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS for both man and beast are bestowed at MODERATE RATES.
